

KAISER SOON TO LAUNCH ANOTHER PEACE PROPOSAL

It Is Expected That By X-mas Russian Situation Will Be In Shape For His Hypocrisy

WE MUST GUARD AGAINST IT

By William Phillip Simms
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Paris, Oct. 29.—The Kaiser and his fellow conspirators are at this moment preparing to launch against the Allies the subtlest, but at the same time most powerful blow since the original one struck in the summer of 1914.

The fall of Riga marked the beginning of the downward swing. The collapse of Russia leaves the way clear. Only by the cleverest work on the part of the remainder of the Allies can the blow be parried, for it is now practically certain that what Wilhelm II and his junkers aim at is nothing less than enlisting by a crafty stroke, the public opinion in Allied nations to bring about what they desire. And what they desire, in one word, is Peace.

Such is the meaning of the Russian debacle.

On its face the proposition appears not only supremely impudent, but impossible. In reality it may be very simple. The intellectuals in Russia feared this thing before the Czar Nicholas abdicated his throne. For a moment it seemed that the New Democracy might ward off the danger. Then chaos came and opened wide the door, leaving the great Empire—or Republic—absolutely at the mercy of her enemies and incidentally brought to the Allies as a whole the greatest danger they have had to face since the start of the war.

Before Christmas the Kaiser is almost sure to pose again as the One Great Apostle of Peace. He will try to bring about the end of the war at the expense of Russia and the Balkans. Of that I am convinced after what I heard in Russia and amongst Scandinavian neutrals. His offer of Peace will be the most velvety thing ever seen the cunningest piece of Machiavellism that was ever put forth to trap less wary souls.

The next few weeks will see Prussia reaping in Russia the harvest for which she has been preparing intensively for years and more especially since 1913. This country of 170,000,000 people is now threatened with complete open subjugation to her southern neighbor of 70,000,000 who has had her in more or less secret subjugation for scores of years. When the Kaiser has Russia just where he wants her, his peace bid will come.

The bid to be expected will fall upon the world about like this:

"What an awful, awful thing, this war!" the Kaiser will say. "I have never wanted it. From the very first"

Spike Buck Pays City An Afternoon Visit

Evidently Had Been Chased By Dogs And Scared Into "No Man's Land"

Shortly before noon today every hunter in Clearfield felt a tingling in his feet and knew that he must be getting near to game. No sooner had the sensation passed than the new-fangled that a fine specimen of a spike buck had invaded the city limits directly back of the silk mill, coming from the Paradise region, and stopping for a moment in the rear of Frank Passmore's lot. Now Passmore, as will be remembered from the story appearing in The Progress, has a propensity for seeing things and he could hardly believe his own eyes until he called his son, who told him his vision was not playing tricks with him. Young Passmore gave chase to the animal which appeared to be hurt, about one of its legs, probably from being chased by dogs. It traversed the garden of James McLaughlin and then wended its way up the hill in the rear of the Elmer Peters property to the wilds to await the coming of the mighty hunter in December.

THE FIRST BOCHE FALLS VICTIM TO SAMMIE

Wounded He Is Brought Back To a Hospital Where He Dies of His Wounds

KEYSTONE SURGEON OPERATED

SAMMIES EXCHANGE BLOW FOR BLOW

By J. W. Pegler

With American Army Somewhere in France, Oct. 30.—Under terrible weather conditions the American army is exchanging blow for blow with the Boches, learning war by contact. France today is a vast stretch of icy rivulets and muddy bogs. Rain and snow are beating down day by day. Through it all the Sammies are manning their guns, developing their marksmanship by shelling the enemy while the infantry in some places stand knee deep in the snow.

An American Lieutenant of the Signal Corp who was working in a communication trench was slightly wounded today. He has the honor of being the first American soldier to be wounded in action.

At The American Field Headquarters in France, Oct. 30.—The veritable death from an American bullet fired by a Sammie in the trenches was that of a nineteen year old German land sturmer. He died in an American field hospital just behind the lines.

Two Sammies went "over the top" under cover of darkness one evening recently. They saw two shadowy figures and one of the Sammies fired. One of the Boches escaped and one fell. In two jumps the two Sammies were at his side and found that his arm had been wounded. They took him back to the trenches and an American ambulance, travelling on the treacherous and slippery road under occasional shell fire, hurried him to the field hospital. One of the ambulance workers was from El Paso, Texas and the other from Oakland, Cal. A Pennsylvania surgeon operated upon the prisoner. For a time he rested easily but the wound was infected and gangrene developed. The American surgeon did his utmost to save his life but in vain. The prisoner said he was carrying mail to his comrades and taking a short cut got into "no man's land."

The American infantry takes their turns in the trenches and on patrol duty in "No Man's Land." It is a desolate section where it is impossible to see only a few yards. Returning from duty exhausted, they throw themselves on the floor, roll themselves in a blanket and get a wink of sleep—sometimes they do not get an opportunity to change their clothing. All accredited American war correspondents on Sunday had their first opportunity to visit the Sammies on the front—their dug-outs and trenches.

The morale of the American forces is excellent. Feeding is very difficult when at the front but the food is the best. Just like the Canadians they have to be restricted from attacking. It looks so easy and doing nothing is so monotonous they want to be up and doing.

NOTED ORGANIST TO APPEAR HERE

Gatty Sellars the world famed English organist composer of the Queen's Hall, London, concerts and the Crystal Palace music festival has been engaged to appear at the Lutheran church on Friday evening, November 2nd. Program includes the Russian Patriotic and the famous "Storm on the Alps." Cathedral chimes will be used with the organ.

KLINE AND RILEY RECOVERING

Austin Kline and Harry Riley, the two young men injured in an air tank let go at the N. Y. C. repair shops on Sunday, are resting as well as can be expected after their experience.

While they are not entirely out of danger, their condition is very much improved and hopes are entertained that the eyesight of neither of them will be permanently injured.

FOOD WASTE IS A MENACE TO OUR NATION

America Must Not Forget That She Is Duty Bound To Make Use of Every Bit of Food

THIS IS FOOD SAVING WEEK

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—With one hundred thousand sermons delivered from as many pulpits throughout the length and breadth of the land, Food Pledge week is now in full swing and during the ensuing five days it will be carried forward with the same zest and enthusiasm that characterized the successful drive for the second Liberty Loan. Those in charge of the plans expect that this nation-wide campaign to complete the enrollment of America's forces in conservation of her food supply will be one of the most successful of the popular campaigns carried on since the beginning of the war.

Calling the Allies the country's first line of defense, and pointing out that the world expects America to guard and provide its food supply, food Administrator Hoover's appeal to the nation to observe the week says:

"We are asking every householder every hotel, restaurant and dealer in foodstuffs in the nation to become a member of the Food Administration for conservation and to pledge themselves to follow, in so far as circumstances permit, the suggestions that will be offered from time to time as to the measures of food saving."

"For us there is no threat of privation. We wish only that our people should eat plenty but wisely and without waste. Wisdom in eating is to make possible such adjustments in our food consumption, shipping and war necessities as will allow us to fulfill our duty in exports to our allies. By eliminating waste we serve ourselves economically and morally."

"I therefore appeal to the churches and to the schools for their assistance in this crusade; to all the organizations for defense, local and national; to all the agencies, commercial, social and civic, that they join the administration in this work for the fundamental safety of the nation."

The motion picture industry is endeavoring to prove its claim that the screen is one of the greatest forces for good in the country, by using its resources unreservedly for the success of Food Pledge week. Thousands of owners of motion-picture theaters have assured the food administration of their heartiest co-operation in the plan to enroll the 22,000,000 families of the nation in a Food Conservation army, and many have perfected schemes of their own to help in the movement.

Slides and posters showing the campaign slogans will appear on the inside and outside of every theater. The various weekly news reels also are to carry special food pledge features during the week.

The men appointed by the Food Administration to carry the food pledge campaign into the motion-picture houses are officials of the largest film companies in the United States, who have had long experience in the motion-picture business. These experts say that their daily audience of 10,000,000 attend the theaters for entertainment and that they, therefore, are applying their usual tests of acceptability to all scenarios submitted, and thereby are excluding mere propaganda.

Devotion to duty by the Mayor of a big city, who braves arrest for a murder which his brother supposedly committed; political intrigue ensnaring the district attorney, and the love of a young girl triumphant over the wiles of an adventurer are strikingly interwoven in the story of "Transgression," a Greater Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature which will appear at the Globe theatre tonight. Earle Williams and Corinne Griffith are featured in the production.

ITALIANS LOSE FRONTIER CITY

Berlin via London, Oct. 29.—Capture of Edine a formidable city on the northern Italian plateau by Austro-German forces was announced in today's official statement.

NEW CHANCELLOR NAMED

London, Oct. 29.—Count von Hertling has been named German chancellor and present Chancellor Dr. George Michaelis has been named Prime Minister to Prussia according to an American dispatch by wireless press today.

Count von Hertling is at present Prime Minister of Bavaria. According to dispatches he has been under consideration for the chancellorship for some time. He is reported in Berlin today and is in conference with the Kaiser. Hertling is a pan-German and a Junkerite supreme. He is one of Germany's strong supporters and strongly disavows any government by the people.

EARLY MORNING BLOW BRINGS HAIG GAINS

Strike North Of Ypres Railway In General Direction of The German Submarine Base

REPORTS GOOD PROGRESS

London, Oct. 30.—Field Marshal Haig struck another powerful ground gaining blow against the German lines in Flanders today. North of the Ypres-Roulers railway we attacked at 5:40 this morning, he reported. "Good progress was made."

The Ypres-Roulers railway goes to Paschendale Ridge just a little to the south of Paschendale. General Haig's general direction of the drive today would seem to indicate that the British have struck forward out of Paschendale in the direction toward Roulers which is six miles distant from where the British advance was made in the most recent British drive last week. The immediate objective in Flanders it seems is the city of Roulers. It is one of the railway centers in the main line of communication between Haig's forces and the German submarine base at Ostend and Zeebrugge.

Eightyfour People to Canvass Clearfield

No Money Needed But You Are To Be Invited to Sunday School

On Sunday afternoon last representatives of the various Sunday Schools of this city met in the Baptist church to formulate plans for the carrying out of the nation-wide Go-To-Sunday-School movement which is being fostered by the International Sunday School Association.

This movement is creating a lively interest among the Sunday School workers; is being backed up by the governors of many of the states, who have issued proclamations urging the people to go to Sunday School on Sunday, Nov. 4th.

This city has been divided into twenty-one districts and committees of four appointed to make a house-to-house canvass in each district urging our people to get out to Sunday School on Sunday next.

It is estimated that there is a total enrollment in the Sunday Schools of this city of nearly four thousand members and the men in charge are making an effort to double that attendance on the day set.

This is a non-sectarian affair and the Sunday Schools of the city are working together in perfect harmony to achieve their ends.

ROBERT REED IS IN PARIS DOING RED CROSS WORK

Made Assistant Bureau Chief And Given Military Commission As First Lieutenant

HAS LARGE RESPONSIBILITY

Robert Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Reed of this place, who was expected home last month after a four years absence in Syria, found such large opportunities for work in France as he came through that he determined to remain there and do what he could in the Alhes cause. His experience in Red Cross work in Bierut put him in touch with Red Cross workers in Paris and he was appointed to the position indicated in the following clipping from the New York Herald:

Homer Folks, director of the Department of Civil Affairs of the American Red Cross, announces the following reorganization. The bureaus of Refugees and Home Relief in Paris, of Refugees and Home Relief Outside of Paris and for Establishing the Blind in Homes have been consolidated and hereafter will be known as the Bureau of Refugees and Relief in Paris, with Dr. Edward T. Devine as chief and Miss Margaret Curtis as associate chief.

The bureaus of reconstruction and of Relief and Rehabilitation in the Devastated Areas have been consolidated under the title Bureau of Reconstruction and Relief with Edward Eyre Hunt as chief and L. Chevrillon as associate chief, and Robert B. Reed as assistant chief.

The permanent organization of the department of civil affairs by bureau is now as follows:

General Administration: Homer Folks, director; alter Abbott, assistant director.

Bureau for Cure and Prevention of Tuberculosis: Dr. Charles White chief; Dr. James Alexander Miller, consultant; Dr. A. H. Garvin, assistant chief.

Bureau for Needy Children and Infant Mortality: Dr. William Palmer Lucas, chief; Dr. J. P. Sedgewick, assistant chief.

Bureau for Rapatries: Dr. W. P. Lucas, acting chief.

Bureau for the Re-education of Mutilated: Miss Grace Harper, chief.

Bureau of the American Friends' Unit: J. Henry Scattergood, chief; Charles Evans, assistant chief.

In a letter just received Robert says: "The Red Cross is militarized as you know. Even the Department of Civil Affairs which sounds almost like a contradiction of terms. I have the rank and wear the uniform of first lieutenant."

I am very much pleased over my position and consider myself very fortunate to have found something so congenial. It is a position of very large responsibility as I have charge of practically all the office work. Mr. Hunt, my chief, spending most of his time in official calls on various persons of varying degrees of eminence, and thus doing the diplomatic side of the work which is of course extremely important. This puts upon me the great bulk of correspondence especially with our district delegates and seeing that the goods they ask for are sent.

This last week each bureau was asked to make a budget of its needs for the next six months. You can imagine that it was some job. I had to list the exact number of each little and big article that we would need in the devastated area for that time. From portable houses to kitchen spoons, and the prices. You would have laughed if you had seen me gravely examining samples of children's clothes. However by taking advantage of all the assistance I could find from every possible source I finally got the budget together. It footed up to over three million of dollars—so you see it is some business we are in."

PREPARING XMAS BOXES AT RED CROSS ROOMS

Much Bustle and Activity As Good Ladies Fill Boxes With Goodies For Men Across Sea

SENDING 185 BOXES AT ONCE

The Red Cross rooms in the Snyder Building are the scene of much hustle and hurry this afternoon and out of this hustle and hurry the heart of many a Sammie will be made glad on Christmas.

The cause of the activity is the preparation of the Christmas boxes of which the Clearfield Chapter's allotment is five hundred. Each box contains the following: one towel, writing tablet, paper and pencil, box each of three tobaccos and cigarette papers, two bars of chocolate, one bundle of stick candy, two packages of chewing gum, one roll Lifesavers, one lolly-pop, one cake soap, one bar shaving soap and a box of Anola wafers.

The boxes and contents are costing approximately one dollar and this money has been raised by a special committee of which Mrs. Chas. Kurtz is chairman. The expense of this little heart-gladdening touch of home for our soldiers is met entirely by contributions to this special fund and does not come out of the funds of the Chapter.

The first shipment of one hundred and seventy-five boxes, which will be made immediately, will be sent thru the Red Cross channels to the men abroad, both in the army and navy and the shipment is being timed to give plenty of leeway so that the boxes will reach their recipients by Christmas.

The second shipment of the allotment, three hundred and twenty-five boxes, will go to the men in the cantonments in this country and will be sent later but in plenty of time so that it will make Christmas merrier for some Sammie or Jackie in camp or ship.

While the ladies have thus far met the bills accruing in this worthy cause, anyone may feel at perfect liberty to give such aid as they can and Mrs. Chas. Kurtz will gladly receive any contributions.

Tonight the Allies (don't know who they are) are to meet the brick tossers and inasmuch as a brick and the wooden sphere weigh about the same the Allies are going to be up against it.

Tomorrow night the Banta Refrigerator company goes to the mat with The Progress and we are looking for a cool reception.

MOTOR CARS STILL IN SEASON

That the H. C. L. Liberty Loan and various and sundry calls on the pocket book have not taken all the money out of the locality is evidenced by the fact that one of the local garages unloaded a carload of automobiles last week and yesterday another of the garages unloaded a "car of cars."

These were all pleasure cars and taking in view the fact that this is the dull season for selling gas-wagons there must be some money still sticking around.

OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL AFTER TO-BE

Dry Belt Now Extends From Maryland Line To State of Florida and Georgia

WEST TO NEW ORLEANS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30.—midnight tomorrow night the ban on Washington will close, probably never to be reopened. At that hour the so-called Sheppard law, providing prohibition of the liquor traffic, will come into operation. When and retail liquor stores will be shut down, but the residents left dependent upon the private importation of liquors from beyond the confines of the District. Even that last hope of the alcoholists is likely to be destroyed when the courts decide whether the importation of liquor into the District of Columbia as into a dry State.

Once before has the national capital been without saloons. That was many years ago, when a spasm of sentiment in favor of prohibition swept over certain sections of the country, leaving Washington among the sections in its wake. Within a few years, however, the prohibition was repealed and the saloons permitted to resume business. The abolition of the liquor traffic is the result of a vigorous agitation extending over a period of seven years. Prohibition has long been strong in Congress, partly through personal convictions and partly through the personal attitudes of members who dared not vote against it because of a moral commitment in their districts, which they feared would be transmitted into hostile votes.

The Hobson constitutional amendment for national prohibition actually carried the House in the Sixty-third Congress, 187 to 189, with fifty-one not voting, but as a two-thirds vote was necessary to carry the amendment through, the measure failed. The same Congress, however, passed a drastic restrictive liquor law for the District of Columbia and the Senate technicalities only prevented the enactment of a prohibition law for the District.

When the present Congress assembled it was soon evident that the majority sentiment in both houses was favorably disposed toward prohibition for the District. The action of the House left no doubt as to where the nation stood on the prohibition question. Consequently the supporters of the measure encountered comparatively little difficulty in securing its adoption, although the "wet" still kept up a fight, setting forth as their principal argument that Washington should be the last city in the country that should have the rigors of prohibition forces upon it; if for no other reason that its citizens are helpless against all legislation by Congress affecting their interests or convenience.

The barring of the saloons from the District of Columbia will complete the

EDITORIAL

LADIES!

Your government is calling you now. It does not want you to enlist, it does not want a Red Cross contribution nor does it want a Liberty Loan subscription. All it wants is that you shall fill out a card setting forth your name, address, occupation and a few minor details. Your government wants to know what its women are doing, what they can do if necessity requires it and who is willing to do it. Last Spring there was a registration day for young men and approximately ten million men and boys registered their names and almost a million of them are now in training. Let the women and girls of this nation respond to the present call for registration with the same unanimity but without the compelling arm of the law. You will be surprised to know that your government is interested in you no matter what your occupation or accomplishment. There is a space for the musician, the cook, the chambermaid, the accomplished singer and even the dancer. Every girl over sixteen is invited to register. Do it.

A FIASCO

With much interest we watch the advertisements being run in the interests of the Welch candidacy. At first they were put up in "short" form but the word went out that the voters would never stand for that so they cut off mighty "short." Then came the publicity experts and exhibited their handiwork which evidently proved pleasing and they were forthwith engaged. After digging in to the dark and dreary past they found that Arnold had represented liquor dealers in court and they sat back and chuckled with glee until the advertisement was printed, but Mr. Voter took no heed of it. He had made up his mind and had confidence in his man. Today they try another wrinkle. They have come to understand that they cannot besmirch John Arnold and in the effort to do so they have forgotten to proclaim the good qualities of their own man and he has weakened. Yesterday for the first time their advertisement was all in praise of Welch and with nothing said about Arnold. From a political standpoint the Welch campaign has been a fiasco. From the time that he returned to his home from Fort Niagara because his political standing was menaced until the present day those in charge of his campaign have made blunder after blunder. The fact that they have changed their tactics is proof of our assertion.

The Summerville Telephone Company operating in DuBois and throughout the Jefferson County country issued notices yesterday forbidding any telephone conversation of more than five minutes. Should this move be made here how in the world would Mrs. Gossip keep her neighbors informed.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and, taken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back, a sick head, dizziness, sour stomach, sour tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatism, twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Dear Sister and Family:

I will answer your letter I received a few days ago. I am well and contented. I am sending you a picture. It isn't very good but you can see a good soldier for once in your life. I got the box you sent me. Tell Lula I am having a good time out here.

I had a hard day today. I was put in the kitchen to cook.

I wrote to mamma last night and didn't have time to write to you until tonight, but it will do. Tell Lula I will not insult me to send a chicken cut to me. Tell Joe I am bound for the Kaiser if they don't get him before I get him but I don't think I will ever get any further the way it is going now. When I get some money I will send you the picture of the camp. Well I guess I will close for this time for I want to write to papa tonight, so good bye.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gibson made a business trip to the state capital on Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Stewart of Hollidayburg, Mrs. Catherine Luke of Tyrone and Mrs. Tetina Fleming of Wilkesburg were guests at the home of Mr. Henry Brown last week.

Dr. Stork made his seventeenth visit to the home of George Reams on Saturday leaving there a bouncing boy. Of this number fifteen were born to the present mother. On Monday a message was received informing them of the death of their beloved daughter Jane Reams at the Cresson Sanitarium. Deceased was twenty-four years of age and previous to her illness was one of the efficient teachers of Decatur township. She is survived by her parents and fourteen brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

A number of service flags are displayed throughout our town. One at the residence of Rev. S. T. Lewis and at the home of Theodore Moore bear two stars.

The subscriptions to the Liberty Loan for Osceola Mills reached a total of $198,500. Of this amount the railroad men subscribed $5,950 and the Women's Liberty Loan Committee secured subscriptions amounting to $45,000. This committee was composed of Mrs. C. B. Wingate, Mrs. C. A. Rickenbaugh, Mrs. A. L. Fairwain, Mrs. Herman S. Brown and Miss A. May Heims. Much credit is due them for the work they did to make the loan a success from this district. A house-to-house canvas was made by the ladies.

The congregations of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches adopted resolutions on Sunday in support of the petitions of Committee of Public Safety with reference to the suspension of the traffic in intoxicating liquors during the war.

It has made my heart bleed to see the flower of the world's youth march away to battle, to become mere cannon fodder. Why, Oh, why, can't we get together and stop all this slaughter? I grieve for the French and the British and the Italians who have died in this horrible war. And poor Belgium and Serbia and Rumania! How deeply I pity them.

"Some courageous figure, strengthened by Almighty God, and armed with a sense of righteous duty must offer himself as a sacrifice. I am that man. Speaking for my noble people, I am willing to give up conquests, won by the steelhard will to victory of my brave soldiers, to pave the road to Peace. I will even give indemnities.

In short the Kaiser is likely to offer to yield—on paper and apparently—practically everything—England, France, Italy, America and the rest are fighting for in order to put an end to a war which slowly but surely is strangling the life out of the Central Empires. He is likely to put his peace proposals in such a pious and sanguineous light that the Great Public of the world may be, for a time, absolutely taken in.

He is counting on the public failing to recognize that Germany has Bulgaria and Turkey absolutely under her thumb; that Austria has become a vassal state; that Germany will demand all her colonies back in return for getting out of France and Belgium.

Such a peace would mean that Serbia and Rumania would come out of the war entirely at the mercy of the Central Powers. Any treaties signed by the present German government would not be worth the paper upon which they were written and "a world made safe for Democracy," and all such phrases would still be as sounding brass. And last of all, Russia is under the German thumb. Summed up, Germany would come out of the war mightier than ever, her prestige higher. When she threatened the world would tremble. Her navy would be intact and a new merchant fleet added to what is left of the old would place her far and away ahead of all other countries in the sea-borne trade.

The Kaiser is counting on the present Russian situation to pave the way for him to yield on the Western front yet make a big coup in the East. This subtle blow must be watched for and countered. The peace-at-any-prices and war-wearies in Allied countries have given him his cue. It is up to the Public rather more than the government to frustrate him.

Our National Capitol Dry After Today

dry belt from Maryland south to Florida on the east and as far as New Orleans on the west.

The anti-saloon forces naturally are jubilant over their success in converting the national capital into a dry city, because of the effect it may have on the sentiment of the entire country. A request has been issued to ministers of all denominations throughout the United States asking them to set aside next Sunday as a day of observance for this latest prohibition victory and to preach prohibition sermons on that day.

"Let us appropriately celebrate the coming of prohibition to the capital of our great republic," says the appeal to the ministers. "Victory is not yet ours; the struggle has been going on for centuries and we have hardly taken the first line trenches, for, according to the latest statistics, 1916, the American people drank 19.40 gallons of intoxicating liquors per capita, at an expenditure of over $2,000,000,000 while the consumption per capita has gone as high as $2.79 gallons since the civil war. But the universal trend for prohibition is irresistible, and the liquor traffic is doomed."

WORTH BUT HALF

what he was yesterday!

—He carried insurance on what he thought he was worth one, two or three years ago.
—He seldom took account of his stock.
—He did not realize that rising costs had increased its worth many times.
—He forgot that fixtures now sell for more than he paid.
—He failed to consider that his building would cost more to replace.
—And now, after the fire, he finds his insurance will only half replace what he possessed, due to constantly advancing costs for material and labor.

Tomorrow you may be worth but half —unless you have increased your fire insurance to cover the greatly advanced replacement costs of what you own.

Suggestion:—Get out our fire insurance policy today—and write or telephone one of these insurance agents for information that will surely benefit you.

Cover your risk on the basis of its present valuation. Proper protection costs little more than half-insurance. Fire insurance rates in this section now average about one quarter lower than four years ago.

The danger of fire is nearer than you have ever suspected. Your turn may be next.

Don't gamble on fire another minute! Telephone call upon, write or send the coupon to one of these insurance agents—now! (His address is on your policy.)

HEY KIDS!

Do you want to help win the war? Sure you do. Well now here is a way to do it. A simple way and one that will not in any way interfere with you having all the fun you want. Do you know that every time you throw corn, grain or any kind of vegetables around now you are robbing our Allies of food. Here is how it happens. The less food and grain we use up here the more there will be to ship to the starving Belgians and our boys in the trenches in Europe. Another thing fellows. Nearly everybody is giving all they can now to the Red Cross, and making Christmas boxes and buying Liberty Bonds. Now if you can help some fellow to save a little money he is going to help win the war and by you helping him you also are helping. Please do not destroy any property. Every time you cause some man unnecessary expense he has just that much less to put into winning the war. We know you kids will help. Prove it to those who do not believe it.

The Very Richest In Fall Wearing Apparel Velvet Suits at $55.00 to $70.00

Of course, such suits as these can be worn on any occasion—as a matter of fact, we doubt whether it is possible to find any material so rich and stunning as a luxuriously soft velvet. For the main part, the coats are knee length and except for a slight shirring at the waistline, are in the silhouette effect; while some have the least tendency inward at the skirt hem. A suit such as this when worn with a new velvet sailor is the smartest combination possible.

Dresses at $16.50, Their Smartness and Refinement Are Out of the Ordinary

Dresses that haven't been in the store more than a few hours; but already carefully placed on racks so that there will be no delay when you come to view them.

There are any number of different styles fashioned of serge, satin, poplin and other combination effects. Splendidly trimmed; some braid bound; some with color embroidery. Everyone an exceptional value at this price.

Fashion Shows Increasing Favor for Fancy Silks

If you have watched the new arrivals in our silk section, you would have immediately noticed a predominating tendency toward the fancy weaves. Of course, ample provision has been made for those who still adhere to the conservative solid shades, for dresses or trimmings.

Priced at $1.50 to $2.25 yd.

Women and Girls are To Register Nov. 1 & 2

Every Woman and Girl Above The Age of Sixteen Should Do So

Thursday and Friday, November 1 and 2d, have been set aside for statewide registration of women. All women who wish to show their patriotism by registering either for service or training may do so on these days, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 8 in the evening at the home of Mrs. Warren Partridge, 208 South Front street. If you are unable to come at this time please make appointment by phone. No one under 16 is supposed to register.

As the draft goes on, an increasing number of men are drawn out of industrial occupations and their places must be filled. In France and England the greater part of such places are already filled by women. When need arises here, surely our women will not show themselves less self-sacrificing and patriotic. Another side to it is the opportunity for training offered to those who desire it.

A CONTRIBUTION

The call to arms has resounded throughout our land, calling the young men of our nation to the front and to the training camps to prepare themselves to go to the front, and for what? You say to fight. To fight what? To fight the German people? No, but to fight German principles.

Then you say must we sacrifice all these young men, the strongest, the bravest, the flower of our country to this terrible war machine which is rolling back and forth over Europe, grinding and crushing all in its way beneath its mighty wheels, just because one poor, weak mortal thought that he, with all his armies and with all his preparations, could conquer the world and force a dictatorship upon us, who have since our beginning been the most looked up to, as a Democratic people, of all the nations on the face of the globe.

Is this not enough to make us fight to make us sacrifice or do anything to help put a stop to this terrible war which is threatening to bring to ruin the whole world.

Of course we are sorry to see our boys go, yet glory in their going, knowing that they will help hold America our beloved country up before the eyes of other nations, as a leader in the cause of liberty and right, where they have come to look for here.

Let us then all hope and believe that this war will soon be over and that the world may again settle down to enjoy a peace which will last until the end of time.

KAISER SOON TO LAUNCH ANOTHER PEACE PROPOSAL

It Is Expected That By X-mas Russian Situation Will Be In Shape For His Hypocrisy

WE MUST GUARD AGAINST IT

By William Phillip Simms
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Paris, Oct. 27.—The Kaiser and his fellow conspirators are at this moment preparing to launch against the Allies the subtlest, but at the same time most powerful blow since the original one struck in the summer of 1914.

The fall of Riga marked the beginning of the downward swing. The collapse of Russia leaves the way clear. Only by the cleverest work on the part of the remainder of the Allies can the blow be parried, for it is now practically certain that what Wilhelm II and his junkers aim at is nothing less than enlisting by a crafty stroke, the public opinion in Allied nations to bring about what they desire. And what they desire, in one word, is Peace.

Such is the meaning of the Russian debacle.

On its face the proposition appears not only supremely impudent, but impossible. In reality it may be very simple. The intellectuals in Russia feared this thing before the Czar Nicholas abdicated his throne. For a moment it seemed that the New Democracy might ward off the danger. Then chaos came and opened wide the door, leaving the great Empire—or Republic—absolutely at the mercy of her enemies and incidentally brought to the Allies as a whole the greatest danger they have had to face since the start of the war.

Before Christmas the Kaiser is almost sure to pose again as the One Great Apostle of Peace. He will try to bring about the end of the war at the expense of Russia and the Balkans. Of that I am convinced after what I heard in Russia and amongst Scandinavian neutrals. His offer of Peace will be the most velvety thing ever seen the cunningest piece of Machiavellism that was ever put forth to trap less wary souls.

The next few weeks will see Prussia reaping in Russia the harvest for which she has been preparing intensively for years and more especially since 1913. This country of 170,000,000 people is now threatened with complete open subjugation to her southern neighbor of 70,000,000 who has had her in more or less secret subjugation for scores of years. When the Kaiser has Russia just where he wants her, his peace bid will come.

The bid to be expected will fall upon the world about like this:

"What an awful, awful thing, this war!" the Kaiser will say. "I have never wanted it. From the very first

Spike Buck Pays City An Afternoon Visit

Evidently Had Been Chased By Dogs And Scared Into "No Man's Land"

Shortly before noon today every hunter in Clearfield felt a tingling in his feet and knew that he must be getting near to game. No sooner had the sensation passed than the new view that a true specimen of a spike buck had invaded the city limits directly back of the silk mill, coming from the Paradise region, and stopping for a moment in the rear of Frank Passmore's lot. Now Passmore as will be remembered from the story appearing in The Progress, has a propensity for seeing things and he could hardly believe his own eyes until he called his son, who told him his vision was not playing tricks with him. Young Passmore gave chase to the animal which appeared to be hurt about one of its legs, probably from being chased by dogs. It traversed the garden of James McLaughlin and then wended its way up the hill in the rear of the Elmer Peters property to the wilds to await the coming of the mighty hunter in December.

THE FIRST BOCHE FALLS VICTIM TO SAMMIE

Wounded He Is Brought Back To a Hospital Where He Dies of His Wounds

KEYSTONE SURGEON OPERATED

SAMMIES EXCHANGE BLOW FOR BLOW

By J. W. Pegler
With American Army Somewhere in France, Oct. 30.—Under terrible weather conditions the American army is exchanging blow for blow with the Boches, learning war by contact. France today is a vast stretch of icy rivulets and muddy bogs. Rain and snow are beating down day by day. Through it all the Sammies are manning their guns, developing their marksmanship by shelling the enemy while the infantry in some places stand knee deep in the snow.

An American Lieutenant of the Signal Corp who was working in a communication trench was slightly wounded today. He has the honor of being the first American soldier to be wounded in action.

At The American Field Headquarters in France, Oct. 30.—The veritable death from an American bullet fired by a Sammie in the trenches was that of a nineteen year old German land sturmer. He died in an American field hospital just behind the lines.

Two Sammies went "over the top" under cover of darkness one evening recently. They saw two shadowy figures and one of the Sammies fired. One of the Boches escaped and one fell. In two jumps the two Sammies were at his side and found that his arm had been wounded. They took him back to the trenches and an American ambulance, travelling on the treacherous and slippery road under occasional shell fire, hurried him to the field hospital. One of the ambulance workers was from El Paso, Texas and the other from Oakland, Cal. A Pennsylvania surgeon operated upon the prisoner. For a time he rested easily but the wound was infected and gangrene developed. The American surgeon did his utmost to save his life but in vain. The prisoner said he was carrying mail to his comrades and taking a short cut got into "no man's land."

The American infantry takes their turns in the trenches and on patrol duty in "No Man's Land." It is a desolate section where it is impossible to see only a few yards. Returning from duty exhausted, they throw themselves on the floor, roll themselves in a blanket and get a wink of sleep—sometimes they do not get an opportunity to change their clothing. All accredited American war correspondents on Sunday had their first opportunity to visit the Sammies on the front—their dug-outs and trenches.

The morale of the American forces is excellent. Feeding is very difficult when at the front but the food is the best. Just like the Canadians they have to be restricted from attacking. It looks so easy and doing nothing is so monotonous they want to be up and doing.

NOTED ORGANIST TO APPEAR HERE

Gatty Sellars the world famed English organist composer of the Queen's Hall, London, concerts and the Crystal Palace music festival has been engaged to appear at the Lutheran church on Friday evening, November 9th. Program includes the Russian Patriotic and the famous "Storm on the Alps." Cathedral chimes will be used with the organ.

KLINE AND RILEY RECOVERING

Austin Kline and Harry Riley, the two young men injured in an air tank let go at the N. Y. C. repair shops on Sunday, are testing as well as can be expected after their experience.

While they are not entirely out of danger, their condition is very much improved and hopes are entertained that the eyesight of neither of them will be permanently injured.

FOOD WASTE IS A MENACE TO OUR NATION

America Must Not Forget That She Is Duty Bound To Make Use of Every Bit of Food

THIS IS FOOD SAVING WEEK

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—With one hundred thousand sermons delivered from as many pulpits throughout the length and breadth of the land, Food Pledge week is now in full swing and during the ensuing five days it will be carried forward with the same zest and enthusiasm that characterized the successful drive for the second Liberty Loan. Those in charge of the plans expect that this nation-wide campaign to complete the enrollment of America's forces in conservation of her food supply will be one of the most successful of the popular campaigns carried on since the beginning of the war.

Calling the Allies the country's first line of defense, and pointing out that the world expects America to guard and provide its food supply, food Administrator Hoover's appeal to the nation to observe the week says:

"We are asking every householder every hotel, restaurant and dealer in foodstuffs in the nation to become a member of the Food administration for conservation and to pledge themselves to follow, in so far as circumstances permit, the suggestions that will be offered from time to time as to the measures of food saving."

"For us there is no threat of privation. We wish only that our people should eat plenty but wisely and without waste. Wisdom in eating is to make possible such adjustments in our food consumption, shipping and war necessities as will allow us to fulfill our duty in exports to our allies. By eliminating waste we serve ourselves economically and morally."

"I therefore appeal to the churches and to the schools for their assistance in this crusade; to all the organizations for defense, local and national; to all the agencies, commercial, social and civic, that they join the administration in this work for the fundamental safety of the nation."

The motion picture industry is endeavoring to prove its claim that the screen is one of the greatest forces for good in the country, by using its resources unreservedly for the success of Food Pledge week. Thousands of owners of motion-picture theaters have assured the food administration of their heartiest co-operation in the plan to enroll the 22,000,000 families of the nation in a Food Conservation army, and many have perfected schemes of their own to help in the movement.

Slides and posters showing the campaign slogans will appear on the inside and outside of every theater. The various weekly news reels also are to carry special food pledge features during the week.

The men appointed by the Food Administration to carry the food pledge campaign into the motion-picture houses are officials of the largest film companies in the United States who have had long experience in the motion-picture business. These experts say that their daily audience of 10,000,000 attend the theaters for entertainment and that they, therefore, are applying their usual tests of acceptability to all scenarios submitted, and thereby are excluding mere propaganda.

Devotion to duty by the Mayor of a big city, who braves arrest for a murder which his brother supposedly committed; political intrigue ensnaring the district attorney, and the love of a young girl triumphant over the wiles of an adventuresome man are strikingly interwoven in the story of "Transgression," a Greater Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature which will appear at the Globe theatre tonight. Earle Williams and Corinne Griffith are featured in the production.

ITALIANS LOSE FRONTIER CITY

Berlin via London, Oct. 29.—Capture of Edine a formidable city on the northern Italian plateau by Austro-German forces was announced in today's official statement.

NEW CHANCELLOR NAMED

London, Oct. 29.—Count von Hertling has been named German chancellor and present Chancellor Dr. George Michaelis has been named Prime Minister to Prussia according to an American dispatch by wireless press today.

Count von Hertling is at present Prime Minister of Bavaria. According to dispatches he has been under consideration for the chancellorship for some time. He is reported in Berlin today and is in conference with the Kaiser. Hertling is a pan-German and a junkerite supreme. He is one of Germany's strong supporters and strongly disavows any government by the people.

EARLY MORNING BLOW BRINGS HAIG GAINS

Strike North Of Ypres Railway In General Direction of The German Submarine Base

REPORTS GOOD PROGRESS

London, Oct. 30.—Field Marshal Haig struck another powerful ground gaining blow against the German lines in Flanders today. North of the Ypres-Roulers railway we attacked at 5:40 this morning, he reported. "Good progress was made."

The Ypres-Roulers railway goes to Paschendale Ridge just a little to the south of Paschendale. General Haig's general direction of the drive today would seem to indicate that the British have struck forward out of Paschendale in the direction toward Roulers which is six miles distant from where the British advance was made in the most recent British drive last week. The immediate objective in Flanders it seems is the city of Roulers. It is one of the railway centers in the main line of communication between Haig's forces and the German submarine base at Ostend and Zeebrugge.

Eightyfour People to Canvass Clearfield

No Money Needed But You Are To Be Invited To Sunday School

On Sunday afternoon last representatives of the various Sunday Schools of this city met in the Baptist church to formulate plans for the carrying out of the nation-wide Go-To-Sunday-School movement which is being fostered by the International Sunday School Association.

This movement is creating a lively interest among the Sunday School workers; is being backed up by the governors of many of the states, who have issued proclamations urging the people to go to Sunday School on Sunday, Nov. 4th.

This city has been divided into twenty-one districts and committees of four appointed to make a house-to-house canvass in each district urging our people to get out to Sunday School on Sunday next.

It is estimated that there is a total enrollment in the Sunday Schools of this city of nearly four thousand members and the men in charge are making an effort to double that attendance on the day set.

This is a non-sectarian affair and the Sunday Schools of the city are working together in perfect harmony to achieve their ends.

CARLESON—WOOLRIDGE

John C. Woolridge, of Woodland, and Miss Jennie Carleson, of Clearfield, journeyed to Cumberland, Md., and were united in marriage Monday, October 8 by Rev. M. L. Enders, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church of that city, and a brother of Rev. G. W. Enders, former pastor of the Lutheran church of this place.

MASQUERADE AT HYDE

There was a delightful masquerade party at the home of Fred Shubert at Hyde City on Thursday, Oct. 25. Games and dancing furnished the amusements for the evening. Delicious refreshments were served and at late hour the guests departed on the twelve o'clock train for their homes in Clearfield.

ROBERT REED IS IN PARIS DOING RED CROSS WORK

Made Assistant Bureau Chief And Given Military Commission As First Lieutenant

HAS LARGE RESPONSIBILITY

Robert Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Reed of this place, who was expected home last month after a four years absence in Syria, found such large opportunities for work in France as he came through that he determined to remain there and do what he could in the Allies cause. His experience in Red Cross work in Beirut put him in touch with Red Cross workers in Paris and he was appointed to the position indicated in the following clipping from the New York Herald:

Homer Folks, director of the Department of Civil Affairs of the American Red Cross, announces the following reorganization. The Bureau of Refugees and Home Relief in Paris, of Refugees and Home Relief Outside of Paris and for Establishing the Blind in Homes have been consolidated and hereafter will be known as the Bureau of Refugees and Relief in Paris, with Dr. Edward T. Devine as chief and Miss Margaret Curtis as associate chief.

The permanent organization of the department of civil affairs by bureau is now as follows:

General Administration: Homer Folks, director; alter Abbott, assistant director.

Bureau for Cure and Prevention of Tuberculosis: Dr. Charles White chief; Dr. James Alexander Miller, consultant; Dr. A. H. Garvin, assistant chief.

Bureau for Needy Children and Infant Mortality: Dr. William Palmer Lucas, chief; Dr. J. P. Sedgewick, assistant chief.

Bureau for Rapatries: Dr. W. P. Lucas, acting chief.

Bureau for the Re-education of Mutilated: Miss Grace Harper, chief.

Bureau of the American Friends' Unit: J. Henry Scattergood, chief; Charles Evans, assistant chief.

In a letter just received Robert says: "The Red Cross is militarized a you know. Even the Department of Civil Affairs which sounds almost like a contradiction of terms. I have the rank and wear the uniform of first lieutenant. I am very much pleased over my position and consider myself very fortunate to have found something so congenial. It is a position of very large responsibility as I have charge of practically all the office work. Mr. Hunt, my chief, spending most of his time in official calls on various persons of varying degrees of eminence, and thus doing the diplomatic side of the work which is of course extremely important. This puts upon me the great bulk of correspondence especially with our district delegates and seeing that the goods they ask for are sent."

This last week each bureau was asked to make a budget of its needs for the next six months. You can imagine that it was some job. I had to list the exact number of each little and big article that we would need in the devastated area for that time. From portable houses to kitchen spoons, and the prices. You would have laughed if you had seen me gravely examining samples of children's clothes. However by taking advantage of all the assistance I could find from every possible source I finally got the budget together. It footed up to over three million of dollars so you see it is some business we are in."

PREPARING XMAS BOXES AT RED CROSS ROOMS

Much Bustle and Activity As Good Ladies Fill Boxes With Goodies For Men Across Sea

SENDING 185 BOXES AT ONCE

The Red Cross rooms in the Snyder Building are the scene of much hustle and hurry this afternoon and out of this hustle and hurry the heart of many a Sammie will be made glad on Christmas.

The cause of the activity is the preparation of the Christmas boxes of which the Clearfield Chapter's allotment is five hundred. Each box contains the following: one towel, writing tablet, paper and pencil, box each of three tobaccos and cigarette papers, two bars of chocolate, one bundle of stick candy, two packages of chewing gum, one roll Lifesavers, one lolly-pop, one cake soap, one bar shaving soap and a box of Anolia wafers.

The boxes and contents are costing approximately one dollar and this money has been raised by a special committee of which Mrs. Chas. Kurtz is chairman. The expense of this little heart-gladdening touch of home for our soldiers is met entirely by contributions to this special fund and does not come out of the funds of the Chapter.

The first shipment of one hundred and seventy-five boxes, which will be made immediately, will be sent thru the Red Cross channels to the men abroad, both in the army and navy, and the shipment is being timed to give plenty of leeway so that the boxes will reach their recipients by Christmas.

The second shipment of the allotment, three hundred and twenty-five boxes, will go to the men in the cantonments in this country and will be sent later but in plenty of time so that it will make Christmas merrier for some Sammie or Jackie in camp or ship.

While the ladies have thus far met the bills accruing in this worthy cause, anyone may feel at perfect liberty to give such aid as they can and Mrs. Chas. Kurtz will gladly receive any contributions.

Bowling League Starts Off With A Shout at Y. M. C. A.

The first skirmish in the bowling league was fought out last night in the Y. M. C. A. alleys when the Business Men met the High School team for three games. The hard headed business men triumphed over the intellectuals by the total score of 1262 to 1075. Following is the record:

Tonight the Allies (don't know who they are) are to meet the brick tossers and inasmuch as a brick and the wooden sphere weigh about the same the Allies are going to be up against it.

Tomorrow night the Banta Refrigerator company goes to the mat with The Progress and we are looking for a cool reception.

MOTOR CARS STILL IN SEASON

That the H. C. L., the Liberty Loan and various and sundry calls on the pocket book have not taken all the money out of the locality is evidenced by the fact that one of the local garages unloaded a carload of automobiles last week and yesterday another of the garages unloaded a "car of cars."

These were all pleasure cars and taking in view the fact that this is the dull season for selling gas-wagons there must be some money still sticking around.

Come to the Musicals at the West Side church first. Go to your Hallows'en party afterward.

OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL AFTER TO-DAY

Dry Belt Now Extends From Maryland Line To State of Florida and Georgia

WEST TO NEW ORLEANS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 30.—At midnight tomorrow night the bare Washington will close, probably not to be reopened. At that hour the so-called Sheppard law, providing prohibition of the liquor trade, will come into operation. The local breweries shut down, and the residents left dependent upon the interstate importation of liquor from beyond the confines of the District. Even that last hope of the alcoholists is likely to be destroyed when the courts decide whether the Reeb bone dry amendment prohibits the importation of liquor into the District of Columbia as into a dry State.

Once before has the national capital been without saloons. That many years ago, when a spasm of sentiment in favor of prohibition swept over certain sections of the country leaving Washington among the sections in its wake. Within a few years, however, the prohibition was repealed and the saloons permitted to resume business. The change of the liquor traffic is the cause of a vigorous agitation extending a period of seven years. Prohibition has long been strong in Congress, partly through personal conviction and partly through the personal attitudes of members who dared not vote against it because of a moral sentiment in their districts which they feared would be translated into hostile votes.

The Hobson constitutional amendment for national prohibition actually carried the House in the Sixty-third Congress, 187 to 189, with twenty-one not voting, but as a two-thirds vote was necessary to carry the amendment through, the measure failed. The same Congress, however, passed a drastic restrictive liquor law for the District of Columbia and the Senate technicians only prevented the enactment of a prohibition law for the District.

When the present Congress assembled it was soon evident that the majority sentiment in both houses was favorably disposed toward prohibition for the District. The action of the House after another in abolishing the saloons had left no doubt as to where the nation stood on the prohibition question. Consequently the supporters of the measure encountered comparatively little difficulty in securing its adoption, although the "wet" still kept up a fight, setting forth as their principal argument that Washington should be the last city in the country that should have the rigors of prohibition forces upon it, if for no other reason that that its citizens are helpless against all legislation by Congress affecting their interests or convenience.

The barring of the saloons from the District of Columbia will complete the

EDITORIAL

LADIES!

Your government is calling you now. It does not want you to enlist, it does not want a Red Cross contribution nor does it want a Liberty Loan subscription. All it wants is that you shall fill out a card setting forth your name, address, occupation and a few minor details. Your government wants to know what its women are doing, what they can do if necessity requires it and who is willing to do it. Last Spring there was a registration day for young men and approximately ten million men and boys registered their names and almost a million of them are now in training. Let the women and girls of this nation respond to the present call for registration with the same unanimity but without the compelling arm of the law. You will be surprised to know that your government is interested in you no matter what your occupation or accomplishment. There is a space for the musician, the cook, the chambermaid, the accomplished singer and even the dancer. Every girl over sixteen is invited to register. Do it.

A FIASCO

With much interest we watch the advertisements being run in the interests of the Welch candidacy. At first they were put up in "short" form but the word went out that the voters would never stand for that so they cut off mighty "short." Then came the publicity experts and exhibited their handiwork which evidently proved pleasing and they were forthwith engaged. After digging into the dark and dreary past they found that Arnold had represented liquor dealers in court and they sat back and chuckled with glee until the advertisement was printed, but Mr. Voter took no heed of it. He had made up his mind and had confidence in his man. Today they try another wrinkle. They have come to understand that they cannot besmirch John Arnold and in the effort to do so they have forgotten to proclaim the good qualities of their own man and he has weakened. Yesterday for the first time their advertisement was all in praise of Welch and with nothing said about Arnold. From a political standpoint the Welch campaign has been a fiasco. From the time that he returned to his home from Fort Niagara because his political standing was menaced until the present day those in charge of his campaign have made blunder after blunder. The fact that they have changed their tactics is proof of our assertion.

The Summerville Telephone Company operating in DuBois and throughout the Jefferson County country issued notices yesterday forbidding any telephone conversation of more than five minutes. Should this move be made here how in the world would Mrs. Gossip keep her neighbors informed.

Right Now

the business of war in all of its grim reality is occupying the attention of our country. Its requirements are men, materials and money.

Many are pledging their lives to our country's cause.

Labor is supplying the energy necessary to produce the material equipment.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back hurts or Bladder bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and if not taken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back, a sick head, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatism, twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in wine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Dear Sister and Family:

I will answer your letter I received a few days ago. I am well and contented. I am sending you a picture. It isn't very good but you can see a good soldier for once in your life. I got the box you sent me. Tell Lula I am having a good time out here. I had a hard day today. I was put in the kitchen to cook.

I wrote to mamma last night and didn't have time to write to you until tonight, but it will do. Tell Lula it will not insult me to send a chicken cut to me. Tell Joe I am bound for the Kaiser if they don't get him before I get him but I don't think I will ever get any further the way it is going now. When I get some money I will send you the picture of the camp. Well I guess I will close for this time for I want to write to papa tonight, so good bye.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gibson made a business trip to the state capital on Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Stewart of Hollidayburg, Mrs. Catherine Luke of Tyrone and Mrs. Tetitia Fleming of Wilkinsburg were guests at the home of Mr. Henry Brown last week.

Dr. Stork made his seventeenth visit to the home of George Reams on Saturday leaving there a bouncing boy. Of this number fifteen were born to the present mother. On Monday a message was received informing them of the death of their beloved daughter Jane Reams at the Cresson Sanitarium. Deceased was twenty-four years of age and previous to her illness was one of the efficient teachers of Decatur township. She is survived by her parents and fourteen brothers and sisters. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

A number of service flags are displayed throughout our town. One at the residence of Rev. S. T. Lewis and at the home of Theodore Moore bear two stars.

The subscriptions to the Liberty Loan for Osceola Mills reached a total of $198,500. Of this amount the railroad men subscribed $3,950 and the Women's Liberty Loan Committee secured subscriptions amounting to $45,000. This committee was composed of Mrs. C. B. Wingate, Mrs. C. A. Rickenbaugh, Mrs. A. L. Edwards, Mrs. Herman S. Brown and Miss A. May Heims. Much credit is due them for the work they did to make the loan a success from this district. A house-to-house canvas was made by the ladies.

The congregations of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches adopted resolutions on Sunday in support of the petitions of Committee of Public Safety with reference to the suspension of the traffic in intoxicating liquors during the war.

It has made my heart bleed to see the flower of the world's youth march away to battle, to become mere cannon fodder. Why, Oh, why, can't we get together and stop all this slaughter? I grieve for the French and the British and the Italians who have died in this horrible war. And poor Belgium and Serbia and Rumania! How deeply I pity them.

"Some courageous figure, strengthened by Almighty God, and armed with a sense of righteous duty must offer himself as a sacrifice. I am that man. Speaking for my noble people, I am willing to give up comforts, won by the steelhard will to victory of my brave soldiers to pave the road to Peace. I will even give indemnities.

In short the Kaiser is likely to offer to yield—on paper and apparently—practically everything. England, France, Italy, America and the rest are fighting for in order to put an end to a war which slowly but surely, is strangling the life out of the Central Empire. He is likely to put his peace proposals in such a pious and unimpeachable light that the Great Public of the world may be, for a time, absolutely taken in.

He is counting on the public failing to recognize that Germany has Bulgaria and Turkey absolutely under her thumb; that Austria has become a vassal state; that Germany will demand all her colonies back in return for getting out of France and Belgium.

Such a peace would mean that Serbia and Rumania would come out of the war entirely at the mercy of the Central Powers. Any treaties signed by the present German government would not be worth the paper upon which they were written and "a world made safe for Democracy"—and all such phrases would still be as "sounding brass." And last of all, Russia is under the German thumb. Summed up, Germany would come out of the war mightier than ever, her prestige higher. When she threatened the world would tremble. Her navy would be intact and a new merchant fleet added to what is left of the old would place her far and away ahead of all other countries in the sea-borne trade.

The Kaiser is counting on the present Russian situation to pave the way for him to yield on the Western front yet make a big coup in the East. This subtle blow must be watched for and countered. The peace-at-any-prices and war-wearies in Allied countries have given him his cue. It is up to the Public rather more than the government to frustrate him.

Our National Capitol Dry After Today

dry belt from Maryland south to Florida on the east and as far as New Orleans on the west.

The anti-saloon forces naturally are jubilant over their success in converting the national capital into a dry city, because of the effect it may have on the sentiment of the entire country. A request has been issued to ministers of all denominations throughout the United States asking them to set aside next Sunday as a day of observance for this latest prohibition victory and to preach prohibition sermons on that day.

"Let us appropriately celebrate the coming of prohibition to the capital of our great republic," says the appeal to the ministers. "Victory is not yet ours; the struggle has been going on for centuries and we have hardly taken the first line trenches, for, according to the latest statistics, 1916, the American people drank 19.4 gallons of intoxicating liquors per capita, at an expenditure of over $2,000,000,000 while the consumption per capita has gone as high as 22.79 gallons since the civil war. But the universal trend for prohibition is irresistible, and the liquor traffic is doomed."

CURWENSVILLE

Funeral services of the late John F. Rafferty who passed away at the Clearfield hospital October 25, 1917, following an operation for stomach trouble, was held Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Timothy's Catholic church. He was united in marriage with Lyda Dodge of Grampian July 4th, 1906.

The Loyal Order of Moose of which he deceased was a member attended in a body, giving beautiful floral tributes.

The services at the church were largely attended.

Mrs. M. V. Reed who has been ill of diphtheria is able to be up. Most of the children are reported as getting along finely.

There will be a meeting of the Aid Society of the Baptist church at the parsonage this evening.

The borough schools will remain closed this week that the authorities may further prevent the spread of the diphtheria.

Mrs. Alden Burfield and children have returned to their home at Naulson, after a week's visit with her father Amos Bloom at aunc and her sister Mrs. George Root at Dimeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bloom spent Sunday with their daughter Mrs. George Root at Dimeling.

Many people of Curwensville and vicinity are now congratulating Scott D. Ammerman on the recent recognition of his heroism by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission whereby he has been awarded a bronze medal and also $500 for a worthy purpose. The act of heroism thus recognized was performed by Scott as a high school boy here at the age of 17 when on December 27, 1913, he attempted to rescue Thomas B. Evans, Jr., aged 10, of Curwensville. The boys were skating on the river when young Thomas broke through thin ice about sixty feet from the bank and where the water was at least seven feet deep. Ammerman walked toward him, throwing him a bough which he did not attempt to seize, then Scott attempted to crawl to Thomas but broke through the ice six feet from him. Then this young hero began breaking the ice between Thomas and himself but the former sank and was drowned before the latter was near enough to reach him. After this brave battle to save Thomas, young Ammerman was so exhausted that it was necessary for a workman from the nearby P. H. & L. tannery to pull him out of the water. Mr. Ammerman's heroic act was brought to the attention of the Carnegie Commission by Roland D. Swoope Jr., then editor of the Mountaineer, now the Curwensville Herald.

In 1915 Scott Ammerman was graduated from the Curwensville High School with high honors after which a commercial course was taken. He is now an upright and efficient clerical employee of the Bickford Fire Brick company at Curwensville. His brother Clarence has already gone to war so that Scott is the only child at home with his highly respected mother, a widow, Mrs. Sarah H. Ammerman. When the bronze medal is received, it will doubtless be displayed publicly (for which display request has been made) for the community will be proud to see the first hero medal to be received by one of our boys.

William Dorvitt, who accidentally shot himself in the leg while cleaning a revolver, is getting along nicely.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which, if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, naty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should try this for a week and notice results.

It is so shriveled that it lifts out with cut pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corners.

HEY KIDS!

Do you want to help win the war? Sure you do. Well now here is a way to do it. A simple way and one that will not in any way interfere with you having all the fun you want. Do you know that every time you throw corn, grain or any kind of vegetables around now you are robbing our Allies of food. Here is how it happens. The less food and grain we use up here the more there will be to ship to the starving Belgians and our boys in the trenches in Europe. Another thing fellows. Nearly everybody is giving all they can now to the Red Cross, and making Christmas boxes and buying Liberty Bonds. Now if you can help some fellow to save a little money he is going to help win the war and by you helping him you also are helping. Please do not destroy any property. Every time you cause some man unnecessary expense he has just that much less to put into winning the war. We know you kids will help. Prove it to those who do not believe it.

We have accomplished more than we anticipated in the October Sale. We have been able to show in a clear and definite manner that values provided by this store warrant the serious attention of every economically inclined person. So as to provide new reasons for making several additional visits to the store by Wed. evening, the following exceptional values have been arranged.

The Very Richest In Fall Wearing Apparel Velvet Suits at $55.00 to $70.00

Of course, such suits as these can be worn on any occasion—as a matter of fact, we doubt whether it is possible to find any material so rich and stunning as a luxuriously soft velvet. For the main part, the coats are knee length and except for a slight shirring at the waistline, are in the silhouette effect; while some have the least tendency inward at the skirt hem. A suit such as this when worn with a new velvet sailor is the smartest combination possible.

Dresses at $16.50, Their Smartness and Refinement Are Out of the Ordinary

Dresses that haven't been in the store more than a few hours; but already carefully placed on racks so that there will be no delay when you come to view them.

There are any number of different styles fashioned of serge, satin, poplin and other combination effects. Splendidly trimmed; some braid bound; some with color embroidery. Everyone an exceptional value at this price.

Fashion Shows Increasing Favor for Fancy Silks

If you have watched the new arrivals in our silk section, you would have immediately noticed a predominating tendency toward the fancy weaves. Of course, ample provision has been made for those who still adhere to the conservative solid shades, for dresses or trimmings.

Priced at $1.50 to $2.25 yd.

Women and Girls are To Register Nov. 1 & 2

Every Woman and Girl Above The Age of Sixteen Should Do So

Thursday and Friday, November 1 and 2d, have been set aside for statewide registration of women. All women who wish to show their patriotism by registering either for service or training may do so on these days, from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 8 in the evening at the home of Mrs. Warren Partridge, 208 South Front street. If you are unable to come at this time please make appointment by phone. No one under 16 is supposed to register.

As the draft goes on, an increasing number of men are drawn out of industrial occupations and their places must be filled. In France and England the greater part of such places are already filled by women. When need arises here, surely our women will not show themselves less self-sacrificing and patriotic. Another side to it is the opportunity for training offered to those who desire it.

A CONTRIBUTION

The call to arms has resounded throughout our land, calling the young men of our nation to the front and to the training camps to prepare themselves to go to the front, and for what? To fight the German people? No, but to fight German principles.

Then you say must we sacrifice all these young men, the strongest, the bravest, the flower of our country to this terrible war machine which is rolling back and forth over Europe, grinding and crushing all in its way beneath its mighty wheels, just because one poor, weak mortal thought that he, with all his armies and with all his preparations, could conquer the world and force a dictatorship upon us, who have since our beginning been the most looked up to, as a Democratic people, of all the nations on the face of the globe.

Is this not enough to make us fight, to make us sacrifice or do anything to help put a stop to this terrible war which is threatening to bring to ruin the whole world. Of course we are sorry to see our boys go, yet glory in their going, knowing that they will help hold America our beloved country up before the eyes of other nations, as a leader in the cause of liberty and right, where they have come to look for here.

Let us then all hope and believe that this war will soon be over and that the world may again settle down to enjoy a peace which will last until the end of time.
